WESTERN CANADA'S INFLIGHT MAGAZINE

What is the best way to pack your suitcase? Have you ever seen any of the remarkable wildlife photographs of Alberta's Andy Russell? What's the best thing to eat while visiting Mexico? Ever heard of a flock of geese who guard a distillery?

These are just some of the interesting stories and articles you will find in Interlude, the inflight magazine aboard every Pacific Western Airlines aircraft.

When you fly Pacific Western, sit back and enjoy Interlude. And why not take it home with you to share with your family and friends.

Interlude reaches over 195,000 passengers per month. If you have a product that the west should know about, why not advertise it in Interlude —Western Canada's inflight magazine.

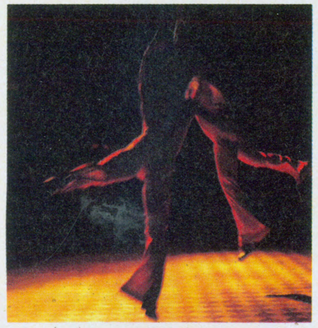
A GEOGRAPHY LESSON FOR HOTEL-WEARY EXECUTIVES.

1. When the chef prepares the salmon you caught, you know you're in Campbell River. At Delta's Discovery Inn.

2. A unique stairwell amid comfortable surroundings means you're in Kamloops. At Delta's Canadian Inn.

3. If you're looking out on acres of landscaped gardens, tennis courts and swimming pools, it's Vancouver. At Delta's Airport Inn.



4. Great entertainment at "The Red Garter Cabaret" indicates this is Prince George. At Delta's Inn of The North.

5. A circa 1914 dining room can be nowhere else but Winnipeg. At Churchills in Delta's Marlborough Inn.

6. An outdoor cafe just off Sparks St. Mall and near Parliament means it's definitely Ottawa. At Delta's Inn Of The Provinces.

7. Oversized beds in comfortable rooms right downtown, with the best rates in the city, lets you know you're in Toronto. At Delta's Chelsea Inn.

The way some national chains have standardized their hotels, it can be hard to know whether you're waking up in Victoria, B.C. or Moncton, N.B.

At Delta Hotels, we believe we have a better way.

Instead of being boringly similar, Delta Hotels have individual personalities that reflect their locations.

In fact, all that's "standard" is the high standard of service.

All have great restaurants and large, luxurious rooms. Most have swimming pools and saunas. Some even offer whirlpools, squash and tennis courts.

Yet none have gigantic room rates.

And that means you may never stay in a boring hotel again.
