Principal Events in Malta and Gozo for 1989

March

- 1-5 Furniture & Interior Decoration Fair at the Trade Fair Grounds, Naxxar.
- 18 Chamber Music: Brevis Quartet at the Manoel Theatre, Valletta.
- 19-26 Holy Week Celebrations are held in all churches all over the Islands. On Maundy Thursday (23rd) religious functions are held during the evening, commemorating the institution of the Holy Eucharist. Late on Thursday evening and during the morning of Good Friday, the faithful pay homage (in groups or individually) to the Blessed Sacrament venerated at a specially-decorated side altar put up in all churches of each parish. Last Supper Displays are held in various parishes and are open to the public between Wednesday evening and Friday morning. On Good Friday (24th) Church services are held in the afternoon, starting at 3.00p.m. Good Friday pageants are held in 14 towns and villages with a number of life-size statues carried shoulder-high and depicting scenes from the passion and death of Our Lord, together with participants personifying Old Testament characters, all dressed in Biblical contemporary costumes. The pageants start at about 5.00p.m.
- 26 Easter Sunday - The Easter Vigil Church Service starts at about 8.00 p.m. on Saturday evening. Early morning processions with the statue of the Risen Christ are held in various towns and villages. It is still customary for children to have their 'figolla' blessed by the 'Risen Christ' during the procession which traditionally is held at a very quick pace indeed. The 'figolla' is a special sweet for Easter. Two identically cut pieces of pastry are filled with marzipan and baked. The top pastry is then decorated with coloured icing-sugar; a hard-boiled or a chocolate egg adds to the decoration. The 'figolla' can take different shapes, the most popular representing various pets, a lamb or a basket.

June

- 29 Feast of St. Peter and St. Paul - Public Holiday
- The feast-day is more popularly known as Mnarja. The feast is traditionally a harvest festival, the origins of which are lost in the mist of time. It is still held at Buskett, a wooded park not far from Mdina, Malta's mediaeval capital.
- Mnarja used to be one of the most important and popular feasts in the annual calendar of events, so much so that on the wedding-day, the husband had to promise his new bride to take her to Buskett on Mnarja-day every year.
- The festivities open on the eve, when open-air folk singing and folk music competitions are held at Buskett Gardens. Maltese dishes are served for the occasion, but fried rabbit is the order of the evening.
- An agrarian show is held during the morning on the 29th June. Horse and donkey races, ridden bareback, are held in the afternoon near Mdina. The races bring the festivities to an end. Mnarja is derived from "Luminaria", meaning illumination, because in times gone by, the bastions around Mdina used to be illuminated by small naked lights called fjakkli to mark the event.

May - September

Festi Season: Each town and village parish church in the Maltese Islands is dedicated to a patron saint. The 'festa' (feast) commemorating the saint is celebrated by the village every year. The five-day festivities include the 'triduum' (three days), the eve of feast and feast-day itself. The celebrations, apart from the church services, are highlighted by outdoor festivities, marked by band marches and coloured rockets displays.

Seaside towns organise also the 'greasy-pole' event. Streets and even homes are specially decorated and the Parish Church, embellished with damask, chandeliers and silverware is a 'must' to see.

The climax of the 'festa' is reached on the feast-day (normally falling on a Sunday) when the artistic life-size statue of the Saint is carried shoulder-high along the village streets. The Maltese look forward to their particular village feast in earnest.

Streets and shopwindows are not left wanting - they too receive the Christmas touch. A Christmas Pantomime is held at the Manoel Theatre in Valletta during the festive season.
