AIR TRAVEL COSTS LESS!

Air fares are lower than ever before.

During the past two years, fares have been reduced drastically, until now air travel is only half as costly.

Today the cost to the traveller of this most rapid of transportation services is, in most cases, no greater than that of corresponding ground travel.

These fare reductions were made possible by a large increase in the number of air passengers. Hundreds of thousands of Americans have found that air travel is a necessity. And most of them are business men: sixty percent of all air passengers are travelling on business, keeping important engagements with the minimum loss of time in travel.

This preference of business men for air travel is based largely on cost, in hours as well as dollars. Busy men place a high valuation on their time. They have learned that a saving in time is a saving in money.

SOME EXAMPLES OF THE SPEED AND ECONOMY OF AIR TRAVEL:

	Plane Time	One-Way Fare	Round-Trip Fare
New York to Washington.....	2 hrs.	$13.25	$20.00
New York to Richmond.....	3 hrs.	19.25	30.00
New York to Atlanta.....	9 hrs.	49.25	85.00
New York to Jacksonville.....	9 1/4 hrs.	53.33	92.48
Atlanta to Daytona Beach.....	4 1/2 hrs.	22.38	41.03
Atlanta to Miami.....	7 hrs.	37.14	68.09

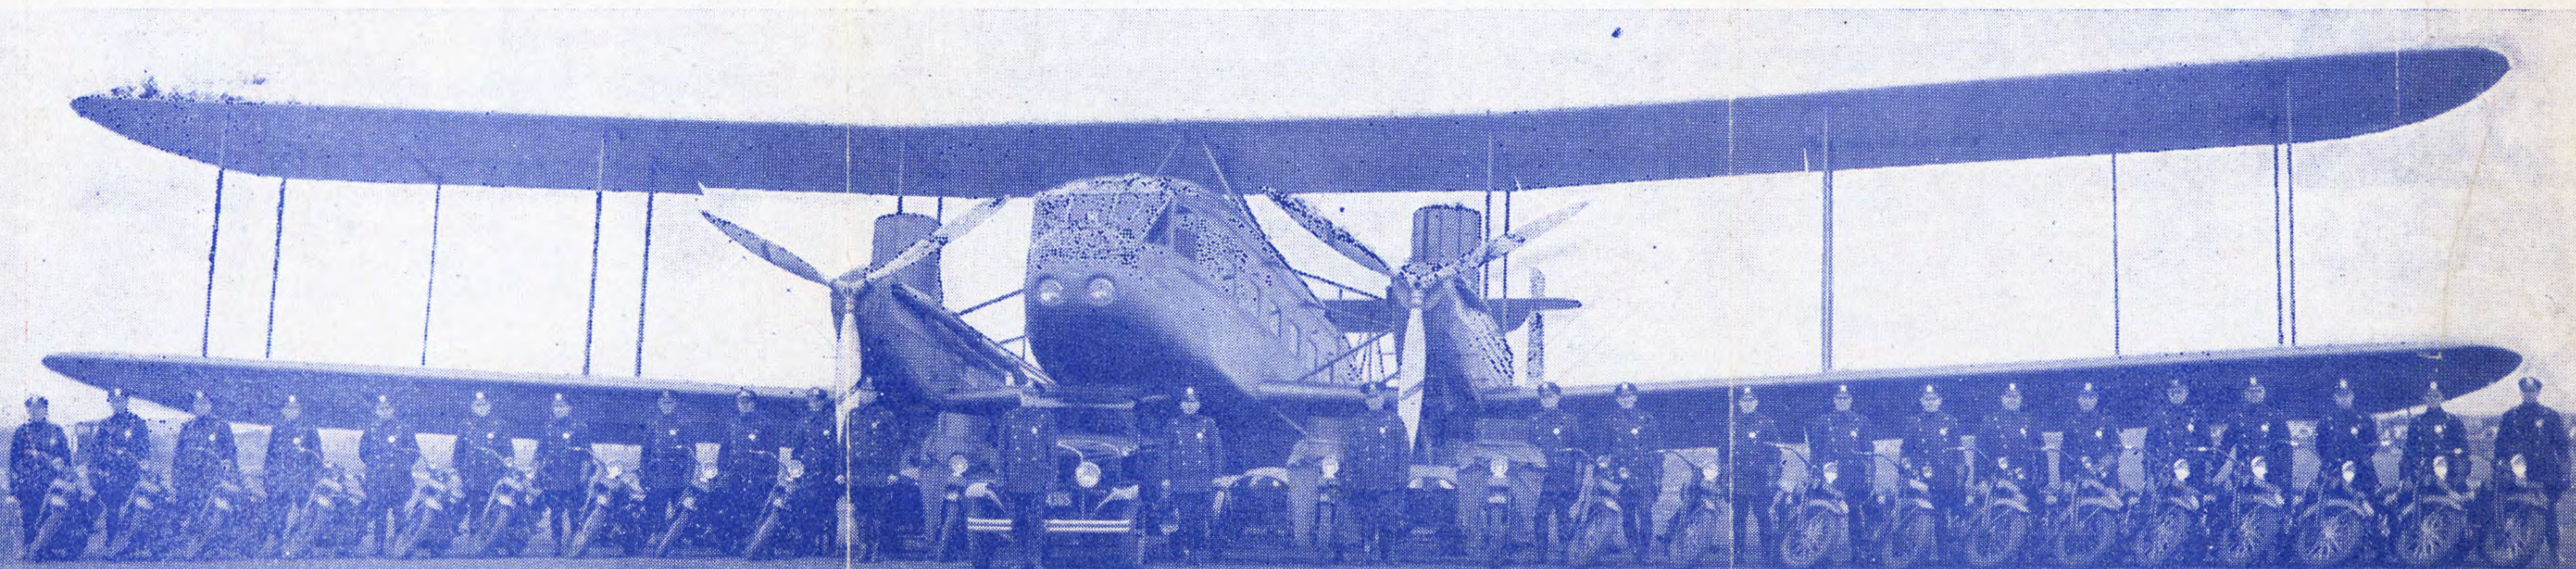

Eastern Air Transport operates passenger, mail and express services along the Atlantic seaboard, from New York to Miami. Planes traversing ten states directly serve twenty-five cities, among them the nation's capitol and the largest city.

During over four years of operation, its planes have flown ten million miles. One or more planes is in the air at every moment of the day and night.

Huge Condors, carrying eighteen passengers and a cargo of mail and express, and manned by a crew of three—smaller Kingbirds, carrying five passengers and cargo—swift, night-flying Mailwings, carrying mail and express—these make up Eastern Air Transport's fleet of forty-three planes. All are equipped with the most modern aids to aerial navigation, including radio.

Thirty-odd veteran pilots and a highly trained ground force of four hundred make up the personnel.

Eastern Air Transport's planes are operated to afford the utmost in travel comfort, convenience and safety.
